I understand the author's point of view, ^{as} ~~that~~ a procrastination is controlling ^{sp} people and ^{gr} make them postpone important things and businesses to ^{voc} tomorrow. And that make them beings ^{voc} collared by procrastination. I absolutely agree with author's point of ^{voc} view. You like on a loeshe ^{sp} use of procrastination and ^{gr} lazy. A procrastination grow from common ^{voc} lazy, ^{gr} make you ^{gr} hesitate, that you will not do this today. You ^{voc} postpone and ^{gr} postpone ^{voc} businesses on next day, and in last day, ^{gr} ~~at~~ ^{voc} before an end of dates, you ^{voc} trying to ^{gr} make all what you ^{gr} postponed in one day. Isn't that crazy? It's so ^{voc} stressive ^{voc} and ~~is~~ hard.

Procrastination has always been one of the greatest problems of humanity. Many of us struggle with it wasting our time instead of doing something more important like homework or reading books.

4 There are many reasons for such problem. The most common of them are: people are forced to accomplish something they don't want to do, therefore they are trying to delay it as long as possible or some of us may not have a good concentration which leads ^{to} often ~~distraction~~ ^{disturbance}.

5 As for myself, there were many situations with the same scenarios. Once I was assigned to ^{make} ~~create~~ a science project. Science has never been my thing especially in early grades, so I was slacking off all the given time instead of working on the project. In the end, I had to do it in a rush.

3 All in all, if you let procrastination take over you, it will only harm you. Everyone should prioritize important tasks first and only a few that rest

3 I understand the author's point of view, being that
 ✓ 5 people should not postpone daunting work perpetually, but 34 instead take it head-on. That people should live not in ✓ 3 avoidance of work, but in enjoyment of it instead.

✓ In my personal opinion, I agree with Dickens' quote. Procrastination can be really time-wasting and hurt your ability to do any work, I think it can be easily solved with daily routines to help you start doing work and keep concentrated on it. 79

✓ In my personal experience, I used to have a really bad problem with procrastination. I would hesitate on doing any bit of work that sounded even a little intimidating, and idle around, barely doing anything. But once I figured out to break things down into smaller tasks and take small breaks between them, my productivity skyrocketed and I've been grateful for it ever since.

5 In conclusion, I think that Dickens is right that we need to "collar" procrastination, and that anyone can do it with a bit of changes to their lifestyle.

I ~~in~~ don't play computer games as much as my brother does. I would like to tell you about my brother's favourite computer game. The name of this game is "Brawl stars". My brother really fancy this game.

This game contains a group of characters: robots, zombies, plants and animals. You get new characters as you progress in cups. Every character activates a particular skill every time you hit the enemy. Each character have got different items: a knife, a gun. The plot of this game is that Leon enters the world of "Brawl stars" after his life in the real world. He finds friends and starts playing. The aim of this game is that you should kill three characters and if you kill them you will have the first place. But these characters will try to kill you too. My brother's impressions of this computer game are only positive. It is very friendly to beginners and I would recommend this game to everyone who enjoys team games.

Hello, Dear Peter! I have my first birthday party at the guest with my friends. It was very interesting, I liked it! In our family we follow this traditions: tonight the ears, eat or cake, blow the candles and make a wish. The next birthday I want to celebrate out a guest. Also, I want to you answer my questions, when is your birthday? What do you want to get out the birthday?

Once upon a time, Charles Dickens said: „Procrastination is the thief of time, catch him“. His words describes the of procrastination very accurately and motivates to think about it deeper. Isn't procrastinating is a real thief, problem and danger for us? I'll share with you what I think about it.

My point of view is close to Charles's, but I also think that sometimes this avoidance of your problems can help you rest mentally, for the cost of being idle in your life goals for a period of time. But at the same time it's a really ~~greedy~~ greedy thief of your time. I'll give examples to itly illustrate my reason by using my personal experience and literature.

I find myself procrastinating very often. I play computer games or surfing ^{the} net which are very time-wasting deals, while I have to do my homework, but ~~that~~ procrastination also helps my brain to rest. The other exam is the habitance of main hero of „Oblomov“. He is ^{laying} all day on his bed and dreaming about his past life, while he has some important work to do. In that case, procrastination is a real danger.

In conclusion I can say that it is not ~~very~~ bad to procrastinate sometimes, as it can help you rest, but to not do it for a long time.

Hello, my name is Vika. My favorite computer game is Roblox. In this game you can choose an avatar you like. Although, you can choose any mini games, for example: thriller, tycoons, game of town. Your character plays depends of your mini game. It can be a park, house, room, city, country, lake and rivers. And you also can make your mini game. I really enjoy this game, it's very interesting, colorful, cool, peaceful, funny. In Roblox, you can make yourself, make a map, you can just be yours and don't think of reality. Also, you can make a new friends in Roblox. The community is friendly and good. Nobody attack you for just like that. I recommend this game for young people and children. You can improve and skill your English too.

"Procrastination is the thief of time, collar him" – said Charles Dickens ^{gr} many years ago. This phrase means that people ^{waste} time for nothing and don't see this, so we need to try spend it for good. Charity as example.

I agree with Charles Dickens and there are reasons. When you procrastinating, your brain "sleeps" and remember information worse than you are doing something. Time is one of a lot of things ~~that~~ person needs in his life.

Sometimes I procrastinate too: I sleep a lot, watch youtube, and play computer ^{voc} in my free time. In Russian tale which ^{gr} called "Neznanika" was a character who ^{gr} lived a perfect life and didn't think about anything. So he wasted time.

In conclusion I want to say that procrastination is not good way to spend time. You can read interesting stories and books, cook, learn new ^{voc} and don't waste time for scrolling tiktok or chat with friends in social networks.

"Procastination is the thief of time, collar him" - is a quoting of Charles Dickens, a very wise one. We often get hurried out to the point where we postpone our plans and spend time being idle. That doesn't just steal your time, it kills your time.

As a teenager myself, I think youngsters struggle with procrastination the most. We are at the ripe age, when anxiety and depression is a common thing in life. We avoid doing something we don't like or forced to do, for example, school assignments or going to particular events. They frustrate us. When I was in 9th grade, I was very exhausted and frustrated with upcoming exams. I had to study every day, barely taking some time off. If my teachers that encouraged me weren't in here, I think I would've failed. The another great example is Oblomov from the novel "Oblomov". He spent all his life procrastinating, dreaming about better life but avoiding anything that could've led to it. Procastination killed him, it will always take lives of someone that doesn't have the courage.

However, everyone has days when doing something feels impossible, and going to bed is the only thing you think off. But if you hesitate, if you prefer to waste all of your time doing useless things, you won't achieve anything in life. Path to success is never smooth, and procrastination is a beast you'll have to fight while ascending on this path.

Dear Peter,

My last birt^hday was at Newton Park.

There we did very cool experem^{en}ts.

Now about traditions. I always have presents from my parents and grandpa^{ents}~~nts~~.

Also we always go to some caffè. Then we go to my birthday party. There I meet my friends and we have fun. And I get presents from my friends too. I would like to celebrate my next birthday at Banana Park. There are trampolines. I like to jump on them. So I like that place.

So its all about my birthdays.

Bye for now.

~~Best~~
Miron.
